

GUIDELINES FOR DIRECT INSTRUCTIONAL MINUTES

Per the Policy on Academic Credit in Wittenberg's Faculty Manual (2022-2023, Rev FEB23, p. 116) and federal definitions, a "credit hour" requires one hour (or minimum of 50 minutes) of direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work for approximately fifteen weeks in a semester (fall and spring). In other words, each credit hour requires 750 minutes of direct instruction. A listing of different types of direct instruction are illustrative of examples in the Policy of Academic Credit. The list provides examples but does not limit faculty members from developing others.

GUIDELINES FOR DIRECT INSTRUCTIONAL MINUTES

In the Wittenberg course syllabus template, there is a section called "Statement on the Expectation of Work." In this section faculty members are expected to include a statement